04.02.01 Web prototype
Lea Rózsa

Link to my GitHub repository: https://github.com/learozsa/lea-rozsa
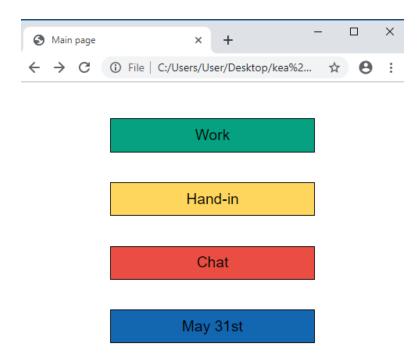

Link to my published site: http://lea-rose.com/basic-ux/index.html

Test and the results of the web prototype:

I have tested my web prototype with a 5-second rule. I have tested with 5 people, which were all students, but different age though.

I tested this main page. Not everbody was sure about where each button leads. They found the colours appealing to the eyes, easy to read. They were also not sure about meaning of the main page. So the changes would be adding more detail to the main page, to be more obvious where the user is and what they can find based on which button they click.

But the reason I kept it that simple because my aim was the simplier it looks the easier it is for the user. This was all I could make of it so far, but I plan keep working on it, and improving it, because I made this project really simply, maybe too simple, and maybe I miss some requirements as well, that's why I want to correct is and make it better!